

Alejandro Navas

"Costa Rican close-up magician seen on Fool Us"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Alejandro Navas is a Costa Rican magician whose Penn & Teller: Fool Us appearance featured close-up card magic with an unconventional comic premise. The curated episode ledger establishes his participation, and specialist performance analysis supports the country and style attribution. Research did not locate a reliable performer-owned website, current booking channel, public schedule or city-level home base. FindMagic can publish a restrained profile around the verified television appearance while clearly leaving current professional and contact details unresolved.
