

Angela Funovits

"Physician and international stage mentalist"

Corporate Events | Mentalism | Stage Illusion | Stage Magic

Biography

Angela Funovits is a physician and international mentalist whose live work combines polished visual magic with feats of mind reading. Her official site offers programs for corporate and private events, theatres, casino showrooms, grand openings and galas, with enquiry controls attached to each format. The biography and testimonials position her as a sophisticated stage performer rather than a generic party entertainer. The site supports an active booking profile but does not clearly state a current home city or publish a direct booking email.
