

Animation Richard Lacroix

"Québec street-arts and magic company"

Based in Montréal

Biography

Animation Richard Lacroix brings jugglers, magicians, stilt-walkers, fire shows and roaming characters to festivals, municipalities and events across Québec. Richard Lacroix began as a street performer himself, and that hands-on grounding still shapes the work: acts built to hold a crowd in the open air, where the audience gathers on its own and stays.

For more than 25 years the company has worked with towns, festivals and businesses throughout the province, handling show programming, artist management and the creation of original concepts. It is a family affair, with Richard teaming up with his daughter to pair field craft with modern project management. Teams travel from Montréal to Gaspé and from Abitibi to Montérégie, covering the full range of street-arts disciplines.
