

Anna Ferris Simpson

"British mentalist combining mind magic and stunts"

Mentalism | Stage Magic

Biography

Anna Ferris Simpson is a British mentalist and magician whose official biography describes unusual mind-magic demonstrations performed while suspended, underwater and in other stunt settings. It also records television appearances and her creation of a London walking tour centered on magic history. The site documents her Penn & Teller: Fool Us performance, but much of its biographical wording reflects the beginning of her career and does not clearly establish current booking availability, residence or recent public work. Those fields should remain open.
