

Anthony De Masi

"Award-winning Melbourne comedy magician"

Based in Malvern East | Close-Up Magic | Kids & Family | Stage Magic

Biography

Anthony De Masi is one of Melbourne's most sought after comedy magicians, bringing innovative and interactive magic to a modern audience. He spent nine years as resident magician Magic Tony on Channel 9's Kids WB, is in demand as a magic consultant for film and TV, and has broken a Guinness World Record twice, in 2004 and again in 2016, for the world's longest running magic show: 85 hours of non-stop magic.

His magic has entertained a guest list that includes Tim Burton, Al Gore, Tony Blair, David Beckham, Gene Simmons and several Australian Prime Ministers, and a personal highlight came performing at the Australian Open tennis players' ball. He also founded his own magic school in Melbourne, The Magic School of Confidence.
