

Benjamin Kraatz

"Swiss visual card magician inspired by Fool Us"

Stage Magic

Biography

Benjamin Kraatz is a Swiss visual magician who said on Penn & Teller: Fool Us that the series inspired him to begin practicing magic in 2017. His televised act used a futuristic robot character and carefully staged card appearances and vanishes. The episode transcript supports the Benjamin and Ben name forms and country attribution, but research did not locate a reliable performer-owned website, current social profile, booking channel, home city or later performance record. Those details should remain unresolved pending direct confirmation.
