"Theatrical magician and mentalist with a personal story"

Based in New York, NY | Close-Up Magic | Corporate Events | Mentalism | Parlour Magic

Biography

Bobby Torkova is an award-winning magician and mentalist whose work combines sleight of hand, theatrical storytelling and personal history. His official site publishes direct email and phone contacts and currently presents A Hanky and a Top Hat, an autobiographical solo magic play about family, identity and the path to becoming a magician. Torkova's television credits include Penn & Teller: Fool Us, while his broader practice spans intimate magic and staged mentalism. The public material supports active booking but does not clearly establish one current home city or a detailed event-service area.
