

Brent Braun

"Close-up creator, consultant and magic-business owner"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Brent Braun is a close-up magician, creator, consultant and magic-business owner. His performer-controlled link hub identifies him as the owner of The Magic Firm and connects to J&B Magic Shop and Theater, consulting work, instructional products and a current email action. A large specialist catalogue further demonstrates an active career built around practical card and close-up material developed through professional performance. The available evidence does not clearly advertise private-event bookings, state a current home base or expose a dependable direct booking address, so the profile should remain restrained.
