Biography

Bruno Tarnecci is a Peruvian multidisciplinary magician whose stage work blends illusion with theatre, music, gesture and poetic visual storytelling. A current international festival biography describes more than twenty years in the performing arts, and official FISM results place him in the 2025 World Championship stage competition, supporting an active international career after his Penn & Teller: Fool Us appearance. Festival sources also associate him with escape and circus elements. Research did not locate a reliable performer-owned website, direct booking channel or verified current home city.
