

C.Y.

"Korean champion of inventive dove and bird magic"

Stage Illusion | Stage Magic

Biography

C.Y. is a South Korean stage illusionist specializing in dove and bird magic. Korean championship reporting identifies the performer as Hyun Cheol-yong, using C.Y. professionally, and records a major Asian stage-magic title. A specialist product listing independently connects both names to an original dove-production system developed through years of research. His Penn & Teller: Fool Us appearance extended that visual bird-magic practice to international television. Research did not locate a reliable performer-owned website, current booking route or exact home city, so the expanded identity should be reviewed before import.
