

Cubic Act

"French floating-box illusion and visual theatre act"

Stage Illusion | Stage Magic

Biography

Cubic Act is a French stage-illusion ensemble best known for a choreographed floating-box routine in which an apparently empty animated carton becomes the center of a changing visual world. The act appeared on Penn & Teller: Fool Us, won international festival recognition and placed second in stage illusion at FISM Blackpool 2012. An Edinburgh festival brochure later associated the presentation with Claude Brun and Jérôme Helfenstein. Research did not establish a complete member roster, current official site, recent activity, booking contact or home city, so only a restrained historical profile is ready.
