

Daniel Madison

"Card mechanics, deceptive arts and sleight instruction"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Daniel Madison is a card mechanic, deception artist, creator and teacher whose current work centers on advanced sleight of hand and the study of card cheating. His performer-controlled Madison Cards site confirms the public identity used on Fool Us and presents an active catalogue, teaching community and direct team email. The Sleight Club draws on roughly three decades of experience and supports lectures and instruction rather than a broad private-event offer. No reliable current home city was established, and general event booking should not be assumed.
