"World-leading tradeshow and corporate magician"

Based in Chicago | Comedy Magic | Corporate Events

Biography

Danny Orleans is a tradeshow magician who builds a company's marketing message into the magic itself, drawing crowds to an exhibit booth and holding them there. With his partner Jan Rose, he has performed at over 1000 tradeshows, corporate meetings and special events at major convention centers in North America and Europe, presenting Corporate Magic for over 25 years across industries from financial and oil and gas to information technology, manufacturing and healthcare.

Audiences get up-close magic with product details woven in so neatly that guests learn while they are entertained. Since 2012 he has been a sought-out presence at the 1200-person special event of the Association of Independent Commercial Producers, and his clients include American Express, Honeywell and ExxonMobil. He suits banquets, meetings, receptions and annual dinners.
