

Darcy Oake

"Britain's Got Talent illusionist"

Based in Winnipeg | Close-Up Magic | Corporate Events | Stage Illusion

Biography

Introduced to magic at eight by an accidental card trick from his father, award-winning sportscaster Scott Oake, Darcy Oake went on to win the People's Choice Gold Medal in Seattle at sixteen and headlined the world famous Magic Castle in Hollywood before he was old enough to enter nightclubs.

His Britain's Got Talent appearance drew over 200 million viewers, and he has since starred in a UK prime time TV Christmas Special in 2015, sold out a full UK tour, performed before the Royal Family inside Windsor Castle for Queen Elizabeth's 90th birthday celebration, headlined the Calgary Stampede to audiences over 20,000 per night, and broken box office records headlining The Illusionists on Broadway in Times Square. Classic sleight of hand and large-scale stage illusions make him a fit for theatres, galas and corporate events.
