

David Garrity

"Corporate comedy illusionist"

Corporate Events | Stage Illusion

Biography

Illusionist David Garrity builds his corporate work around clean, corporate-friendly comedy and strong visual magic: people appear, float in the air and pass through solid objects, with guests drawn in as willing accomplices. Trusted by Fortune 500, he brings 25 years of professional performing experience to awards dinners, banquets, annual meetings and product launches.

The scale flexes to the room. "IllusionQuest" is a large-scale, interactive, multi-performer main-stage illusion show that can bring a CEO or keynote speaker into the magic, while a one-person illusion show suits smaller banquets and award nights. For receptions and hospitality suites, David moves from group to group with mini-illusion shows that happen inches from guests' eyes. He performs across Connecticut, Massachusetts, New York, Boston, Orlando and Phoenix.
