

David Villalobos

"Close-up and stage magician"

Based in Málaga | Stage Illusion

Biography

David Villalobos works with cards, coins, elastic bands and everyday objects, turning familiar things into genuine impossibilities in front of the audience. Each show is shaped around the guests and the occasion: family performances built on magic, respectful humour and participation, where children and adults share the same wonder, and a more theatrical, visual stage show designed for scenic spaces and large audiences.

Alongside events, David collaborates with social organisations including AVOI (the association of children's oncology volunteers) and the Red Cross, sharing magical moments with hospitalised children and groups in difficult circumstances. He also leads workshops combining illusion, creativity and communication skills. Whatever the celebration, mystery, emotion and astonishment combine to create an atmosphere in which everything seems possible.
