

Giacomo Bertini

"Original coin magic taught with exacting Italian artistry"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Giacomo Bertini is an Italian close-up magician, creator and teacher celebrated for an original system of coin magic. His official site presents private and group lessons, international workshops and lectures, downloadable instruction and an active catalogue of original material. The biography describes his Florentine roots, extensive teaching career and leadership of the European Close-up Magic Symposium, while his Fool Us appearance brought the work to a wider television audience. The evidence supports active instructional and creator bookings, but it does not establish a current home city or a general private-event performance menu.
