

Glenn Morphew

"Practical close-up sleight of hand from the performer's view"

Close-Up Magic | Corporate Events

Biography

Glenn Morphew is a close-up magician, creator and teacher whose Point of View Magician platform specializes in detailed sleight-of-hand instruction filmed from the performer's perspective. His official site offers an active library of card technique, original routines, coaching and a shop designed around methods tested in real-world performance. Morphew also appeared on Penn & Teller: Fool Us, where his technical card work reached a broad audience. A current contact route supports instructional and lecture enquiries, although the site does not clearly establish general event bookings, a direct email or a present home city.
