

Henry & Klauss

"3x Guinness Record Holders"

Stage Illusion | Stage Magic

Biography

Henry & Klauss are a Brazilian illusion duo known for large-scale theatrical productions, endurance feats and a technology-forward visual style. Their official production site promotes the 2026 Masters of Magic world-tour show in São Paulo, describing an immersive family experience with international-scale scenery, audience interaction and effects designed for major theatres. The act also holds multiple Guinness records and has reached audiences across several continents, alongside television work including Fool Us. Current ticketing and production contacts support active public and branded appearances, but the site does not establish the members' expanded public names or a single present home city.
