

Hollie England

"British-born visual magic sharpened on international arena stages"

Close-Up Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

Hollie England is a British-born, United States-based magician and touring illusionist best known as a featured member of Champions of Magic. Official production material places her within a large international theatre show that combines close-up work with daring stage illusion, while The CW's current 2025 Fool Us presentation highlights her fire magic. England has developed her craft through extensive touring in the United Kingdom, North America and beyond. Research did not locate a dependable performer-controlled website, direct booking contact, independent event menu or exact current home city, so enquiries should route through the production rather than imply solo availability.
