

Hunter Rhodes

"Close-up magician and magic consultant"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

With more than 11 years as a professional magician, Hunter Rhodes is known for dynamic performances built on expert sleight-of-hand, and has also worked as a magic consultant for AMC.

His strolling work moves through a room, with magic happening inches from guests in a way that surprises, connects and energizes - a natural fit for corporate gatherings, weddings and cocktail hours. For a seated audience, he offers an interactive show where magic and music collide, bending reality, inviting participation and leaving the room buzzing with energy and wonder. He also builds personalized performances around a particular event, audience or message, shaping the material to suit a private party, company celebration or special moment.
