

Jack Kelly

"Fresh Carolina magic shaped by resilience and clean storytelling"

Close-Up Magic | Mentalism | Stage Magic

Biography

Jack Kelly is a North Carolina magician whose official biography describes using magic to overcome a childhood stutter before building more than a decade of performance experience. He now travels nationally with clean close-up and stage entertainment for corporate conferences, private celebrations and brand events, blending visual ideas with an upbeat contemporary style. Kelly became one of the youngest performers to win a Fool Us trophy in 2025 and has appeared across national and regional television. His official site provides a detailed event enquiry form, though it does not publish a direct email or exact current home city.
