

Jamie Salinas

"Award-winning children's magician"

Based in Houston | Close-Up Magic | Kids & Family | Stage Magic

Biography

Jamie Salinas is an award winner in the art of sleight of hand magic, working close to the audience where every move can be watched and nothing can be explained away.

His magic has been featured at the world famous Magic Castle in Hollywood, California, and he has performed for royalty, celebrities and both American and foreign presidents, as well as appearing on American and foreign television. That range means his sleight of hand plays as easily for a company party or a gala reception as it does for a children's celebration, with entertainment built around the guests in the room rather than a fixed script. Events of every size are welcome, from family occasions to corporate gatherings.
