

Jamie Sanden

"Corporate entertainer and comedy magician"

Based in Chicago | Close-Up Magic | Corporate Events

Biography

Corporate entertainer and comedy magician James Sanden builds his shows for business audiences, mixing mind-blowing magic with elements of theater, improv and stand-up comedy. With extensive experience in the meeting and events industry, he can also fold a company's message, brand or product into the magic itself.

Guests laugh and gasp in equal measure, with key people asked for by name and drawn into the action. The act shapes itself to the room: strolling magic during the cocktail hour, an after-dinner show, or a combination of the two. It stays clean throughout, keeps technical requirements to a minimum and stays focused on the success of the event rather than the applause. Past clients include 1st Source Bank and Hands of Peace.
