

Jared Kopf

"Classical Texas card craft with quiet intellectual mystery"

Based in Dallas | Close-Up Magic | Mentalism

Biography

Jared Kopf is a Texas magician known for carefully constructed card magic, sleight of hand and intimate mystery. His performer-controlled site presents him directly as a working magician, while current magic-industry material describes a classical approach shaped by his study with Bob White and a substantial catalogue of books, lectures and original effects. Kopf has performed and lectured across North America and brought his thoughtful style to Penn & Teller: Fool Us. The available evidence supports an active creative and performing career, though it does not establish a dependable current home city or publish a direct booking email.
