

Jason Hudy

"Pigeon Forge illusionist and comedy magician"

Based in Pigeon Forge | Close-Up Magic | Comedy Magic | Stage Illusion

Biography

Jason Hudy headlines ILLUSIONATION, billed as Pigeon Forge's largest magic show, at the Array Theater on the Parkway. iHeartRadio describes the show as "must-see magic," and The Late Late Show calls Jason "sensational."

His style combines artful sleight of hand with dramatic, larger-than-life illusions: everyday objects transform in ways that seem impossible, while comedy and audience interaction keep the laughs coming between the big moments. It is a family-friendly show made for kids, teens and adults together, high in energy from the first effect to the last. The theater sits at 2135 Parkway, directly between two of the area's most popular attractions, the Titanic Museum Attraction and The Island in Pigeon Forge.
