

Jeremiah Zuo

"Reclusive Chicago coin craft shared through books and rare appearances"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Jeremiah Zuo is a coin-magic specialist and writer associated with the Chicago magic scene. Magic-industry material describes his long study among local sleight-of-hand practitioners, influential lecture notes and the books Confessions of a Magic Fan and The Institutes of a Magic Fan. His precise coin work, including the move known as The Drop, later reached wider audiences through a filmed lecture and Penn & Teller: Fool Us. Research did not find a performer-controlled website, reliable recent public appearance, direct booking route or evidence that Zuo currently works as a public-facing professional magician, so the profile should avoid claiming present availability or residence.
