

Joe Diamond

"Midwest mind reading that connects modern audiences through mystery"

Based in Los Angeles | Corporate Events | Mentalism

Biography

Joe Diamond is an Illinois-based mentalist billed as the Midwest Mystic, combining interactive mind reading, intuitive psychology, storytelling and clean improvisational comedy. His official site offers nationwide entertainment for banquets, theatres and private gatherings, while a current ticketing calendar lists recurring public shows at Maxwell Mansion and the Grand Victorian. Diamond holds a record for navigating a large corn maze blindfolded and has appeared on national television, including Penn & Teller: Fool Us. A direct email and phone support active bookings, though the strongest current evidence does not name one stable home city.
