

John Walton

"Warm mathematical magic refined through decades of original thinking"

Close-Up Magic | Mentalism | Parlour Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

John Walton is a Washington-state magician, creator and long-time live performer whose work combines mathematical ideas, original illusion and an inviting stage manner. His official site documents more than twenty-five years entertaining audiences, a Guinness record for Faro shuffles, national magic awards and service as the Mount Baker Theatre's resident magician. Walton won a Fool Us trophy with a multi-layered number prediction built around the Mona Lisa. A performer-controlled booking form and direct email support current private, corporate and stage enquiries, although the site does not state one current home city.
