"Award-winning Atlanta comedy magician"

Based in Atlanta | Comedy Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

A four-time winner of the Greater Atlanta Magician Of The Year Award, Ken Scott blends comedy and magic honed over more than 30 years and some 400 shows a year, for audiences totalling over a million people. He has performed five times at the White House, appears yearly at the world-famous Magic Castle in Hollywood, home of the Academy of Magical Arts, and has been featured on CNN Headline News for its segment on A Day of Magic as well as on ABC's America's Funniest Home Videos.

The New York Times wrote that "Ken leaves his audience spellbound as he delivers a string of miracles." The comedy lands with parents as readily as with children, which makes the show a fit for company parties, private celebrations and birthday parties across Atlanta and greater Georgia.
