

Kevin James

"The Inventor, award-winning international magician"

Based in Los Angeles | Close-Up Magic

Biography

Known as The Inventor, Kevin James is an international magician whose original creations have been honoured repeatedly at The Magic Castle: Parlour Magician of the Year in 1988, Stage Magician of the Year in 2003 and 2008, and the Creative Fellowship Award in 2004, the one he holds dearest. His first significant prize came far earlier, the Grand Prix at the P.C.A.M. in 1983.

His illusion Operation astonished viewers on America's Got Talent in 2007, and since 2012 he has toured with THE ILLUSIONISTS LIVE, the seven-magician show that has played Australia, New Zealand, the United Arab Emirates, Europe, Mexico and Central and South America. Along the way he spent three years at the famed Crazy Horse in Paris, was a featured performer in Splash at the Riviera Hotel, headlined the Sheraton Walker Hill in Seoul and starred in The World's Greatest Magic Show in Las Vegas.
