

Leroya Sanford

"Comedy magic using warmth, representation and resilience to open possibilities"

Comedy Magic

Biography

Leroya Sanford is an American comedian, magician, actor and spoken-word performer whose work combines jokes with positive, representational magic. She developed the hybrid while training through the Magic Castle's Junior Society and later presented it on Penn & Teller: Fool Us. Sanford's self-authored professional profile documents touring comedy, emcee work and continuing writing about the entertainment business, while 2026 arts coverage still identifies her as a stand-up comic and magician. Research did not verify a functioning performer-controlled website, direct booking contact, current public show calendar or one dependable home city, so availability should remain unclaimed.
