

Levent

"Fast, comedy-led magic rooted in sleight of hand and vaudeville tradition."

Based in New York, NY | Close-Up Magic | Comedy Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

Levent is an American comedy magician, author, lecturer and vaudeville historian whose stage act combines demanding sleight of hand with rapid-fire humor. His performer-controlled site documents more than thirty years of experience, appearances at the Magic Castle and major corporate venues, television work on Masters of Illusion and Penn & Teller: Fool Us, and educational material for magicians. A direct performer email supports general enquiries, with separate professional representation for cruise work. The current site does not state his full public name or a dependable home city, so FindMagic should retain the established single-name billing.
