

Magic Inclusive

"Magician for young and old"

Based in Dresden

Biography

Behind Magic Inclusive is Kay Gellrich, who presents himself simply as an original and contemporary magician, working for young and old alike.

Magic Inclusive looks back on 35 successful years on stage, a run marked with thanks to everyone who supported and encouraged it along the way. There is no single fixed routine: each engagement begins with a show concept drawn up around the host's own ideas and requirements, so the magic is measured to the occasion and to the guests in the room. That approach suits private celebrations and business events alike, from family parties where the children are as much part of the audience as the grown-ups, to company dates that need a magician to shape the evening.
