Biography

Marc Spelmann is the visionary magician and mind reader behind the global phenomenon Magician X. Blending psychological illusion, deduction, storytelling and grand-scale showmanship, he creates deeply personal performances that leave audiences astonished and emotionally moved.

Marc became an international sensation on Britain's Got Talent with an unforgettable audition inspired by his family's story of hope. The following year, he secretly returned as the masked Magician X, orchestrating one of the most dramatic reveals in the show's history. His television performances have attracted more than a billion views worldwide, while Simon Cowell has described him as one of the most original magicians ever to appear on a talent show.

From theatrical stage productions and intimate close-up magic to keynote presentations and creative consultancy, Marc delivers intelligent, cinematic magic unlike anything else.
