Biography

Micah Cover performs as Micah and operates Micah's Magic from Marina del Rey in the Los Angeles area. His self-authored professional profile confirms the business identity and location, while his current public performer account advertises interactive engagements built around making the audience the star. Peer recommendations emphasize improvisation, reliability and close attention to the people in the room. A public phone number supports active enquiries, though research did not recover a dependable performer-owned website, detailed menu of event formats or a direct booking email.
