

Michael Pharoah

"Canadian card magic built around an expansive impossible prediction"

Close-Up Magic

Biography

Michael Pharoah is a Canadian magician whose verified Penn & Teller: Fool Us appearance aired in October 2025. Contemporary specialist coverage describes him as especially passionate about card magic and records a large prediction routine involving choices across a refrigerator, pantry and wardrobe. That recent broadcast is sufficient to establish an active, real performer and a starting point for a FindMagic profile. Research did not locate a performer-controlled website, current home city, public calendar, social account or direct booking route, so no availability claim should be published yet.
