

Rebecca Herrera

"Televised mentalism built around bold predictions and shared thought"

Mentalism | Stage Magic

Biography

Rebecca Herrera is a magician and mentalist who appeared twice on Penn & Teller: Fool Us. A CW affiliate profile introduced her return in 2019 and confirmed that her earlier mentalism performance had fooled Penn and Teller. Her televised material centers on thought, drawing and prediction, presenting large mental mysteries in a clear stage format. Those appearances establish identity and profile eligibility, but research did not locate a dependable performer-owned website, current professional calendar, booking contact or home base. The profile should therefore preserve her verified work without claiming that she is presently accepting engagements.
