Biography

Rick Smith Jr. is an 8-time Guinness World Record holder whose signature skill is throwing playing cards with astonishing precision, set inside a show of illusions and interactive magic that pulls the room into the act rather than leaving it to watch.

His work has reached over 3 million YouTube subscribers, including videos made with creators such as Dude Perfect, Mark Rober and The Slo Mo Guys. As a seasoned corporate entertainer, he builds high-energy performances for annual sales meetings, holiday parties and product launches, with guests taken directly into the magic. Through Magic Gives Back, he turns events into opportunities to uplift communities. One client described his illusions as "amazing, surprising, astounding".
