

Robin Sheikh

"Saint John mind reading powered by partnership and audience play"

Based in Saint John | Mentalism | Stage Magic

Biography

Robin Sheikh is a Saint John, New Brunswick magician and mind reader whose Fool Us act filled the theatre with balloons, color and audience participation. Local reporting identifies her husband Tabraze as a creative partner in that routine. The pair now performs together as Modern Mind Readers, an interactive stage act built around shared thoughts, emotional connection and demonstrations of apparent mental communication. A 2025 theatre engagement confirms current cross-border professional activity. Research did not locate a standalone performer-owned website or direct booking email, so the profile should link to verified coverage while an operator seeks a durable contact route.
