"Korean visual magic making everyday objects unexpectedly alive"

Based in Seoul | Comedy Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

Sangsoon Kim is a South Korean stage magician known for highly original visual routines that animate familiar objects with precise comedy. His current official site highlights a new 2025 production at Berlin's Wintergarten, television appearances on Fool Us and America's Got Talent, and FISM recognition for originality. The act favors escalating surprises, physical clarity and custom-designed props over spoken explanation, making it adaptable for international audiences. A Seoul company address, direct email, telephone number and event form confirm active professional availability in Korea and abroad, though a detailed public touring calendar is not maintained.
