

Sean Alexander

"Award-winning UK illusionist and mind reader"

Close-Up Magic | Corporate Events | Mentalism | Stage Illusion

Biography

Award winning illusionist, mind reader and magician Sean Alexander performs under the name 'The Confusionist', offering a blend of humour, danger and spectacle across grand illusions, cabaret magic, close-up magic and mind-reading.

Audiences meet telepathy and jaw-dropping moments at arm's length during a drinks reception, or full-scale illusions taking centre stage after dinner. Sean has hosted magic on the Orient Express and worked with a Cyber Security company at the Tower of London, weaving a client's message into the entertainment at office parties, conferences and seminars. He also acts as a magical MC and wedding toastmaster, handling every announcement and timing while keeping the room laughing, and designs custom illusions and product launches for brands, television, film and theatre.
