

Takamiz Usui

"Japanese cube magic powered by original methods and invention"

Close-Up Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

Takamiz Usui is a Japanese magician and creator whose innovations helped establish Rubik's Cube magic as a modern performance field. His current English-language site describes original methods used by magicians worldwide and offers enquiries for live magic, product creation and media appearances. Usui performs at theatres and conventions internationally and is a member of the Magic Castle in Los Angeles. His Fool Us appearance served as a showcase for several recent inventions, combining cube work with precise card magic. Research confirms active professional work in Japan, though not one exact current home city.
