

The Passing Zone

"Comedy juggling where trust, teamwork and flying chainsaws meet"

Comedy Magic | Stage Magic

Biography

The Passing Zone is the Los Angeles-area comedy juggling partnership of Jon Wee and Owen Morse. Their current keynote program turns high-risk stunts, rapid comedy and audience participation into vivid lessons about trust, collaboration, innovation and recovery from setbacks. The duo has performed for major corporate and public audiences, reached the finals of America's Got Talent, appeared at the White House and earned multiple Guinness records and professional honors. Their Fool Us appearance belongs within that broader variety career. A current speaker agency provides booking, technical requirements and media for domestic and international events.
