

Tom Crosbie

"Factually precise variety for audiences who enjoy smart surprises"

Comedy Magic | Corporate Events | Stage Magic

Biography

Tom Crosbie is a British variety entertainer and speaker who bills himself as a Performing Nerd rather than a conventional magician. His stage work combines memory, Rubik's Cube skill, wordplay, facts and seemingly impossible demonstrations, producing the response of magic without leaning on traditional character conventions. His current official site offers worldwide corporate, club and after-dinner bookings through a direct enquiry form. Crosbie's 2025 Fool Us appearance earned a trophy and fits the program's broader view of inventive mystery performance. Research supports active international work but not one exact current home city.
