Biography

Award-winning magician and mind reader Tom Weil has spent over 15 years creating unforgettable moments around the world through magic, mind reading and psychological illusion. His style is contemporary, highly visual and fun, whether he is working close-up with playing cards, coins and small objects or reading the minds of guests from the stage.

From luxury resorts in the Maldives to packed theatres, corporate events, weddings and private parties across Australia, Europe and Asia, Tom performs magic that breaks social barriers and makes mingling effortless. He has been featured at major festivals and theatres with his long-running mind reading show Sixth Sense, and his work ranges from roving entertainment at receptions and dinners to mentalism stage shows for gala dinners. Based in Adelaide, he performs regularly in Sydney and Melbourne.
