

Tony Middleton

"Award-winning London parlour magician"

Close-Up Magic | Parlour Magic

Biography

Tony Middleton, known as 'Sonic', is an international award-winning magician, author, producer and Associate of the Inner Magic Circle who pioneered the immersive magic show format in London. He is the man behind The Magic Hour, the city's longest running 'parlour' magic show, performed every week at the Sheraton Grand Park Lane in Mayfair.

Parlour magic means a theatre-style show in a private drawing room, and with a capacity of 60 everyone sits close enough to see the magician's every move. Middleton blends sleight of hand with tales of the Victorian masters of deception and the Golden Age of Magic. Since its inception in 2013 the show has been named in the top 10 attractions in London (TripAdvisor 2014) and the top Halloween show in London (Metro 2018), and has entered the TripAdvisor Hall of Fame. He also performs at private events.
