

Tony Montana

"Award-winning Madrid mentalist and magician"

Based in Madrid | Comedy Magic | Kids & Family

Biography

Tony Montana calls himself an "antihero" of magic, a mentalist and magician who invites audiences to feel like children again and believe the impossible is possible. In Beijing he took third place in mentalism at the World Magic Championship, and his training at the Escuela Nacional de Arte Dramático de Buenos Aires turns each performance into storytelling rather than a run of tricks.

Cards vanish, thoughts are read, and every routine carries a story. In Madrid he performs Mentalismo Reservado for just six spectators a show, an experience shared by more than 10,000 people in five years, alongside the livelier Magia para Tod@s. Having assisted Henry Evans at the iconic Luna Park, he moves easily between the most intimate settings and full stage shows.
