

Will Bradshaw

"A second-generation magician shaped by story and mystery"

Stage Magic

Biography

Will Bradshaw is an American magician who grew up around the art through his magician father and later deepened his practice through Mystery School. A magic-industry profile published near his Fool Us appearance describes that personal development and supports his identity as a serious performer. The verified television record establishes profile eligibility, but research did not surface a current performer-owned website, recent public show, direct booking route, precise home base or clear evidence of continuing professional availability. FindMagic should publish a restrained historical profile and the Fool Us video without enabling bookings.
