

Will Mannsz

"Magician for corporate events and weddings"

Based in Denver | Corporate Events

Biography

Performance artist, magician and speaker Will Mannsz blends storytelling, psychological illusion and audience interaction into something closer to a shared experience than a show. Guests are drawn into the moment rather than left watching from a distance, and one client reported that days later people were still telling stories of what they experienced.

His magic has left audiences amazed across Colorado and beyond, from corporate events and private celebrations to theatres, with television appearances including Denver's 9News. Company parties are familiar ground: one host called him the life of the party and praised his level of detail in planning, while another added him to their preferred vendor list. Charismatic and quick with a room, Will Mannsz performs for corporate and private events worldwide.
